

Keep All The Fires Burning Bright

Jennifer Rush

You say, now I am your hunter.
I know I'd better beware.
You've got me searching for shelter,
But I can hear you moving up on me.

You become my mirror.
Knowing your half way here.
Just a single step nearer,
Reminds me why I do not dare.

There was calling, in the dark of night,
Though I thought it would leave me alone.
Even stronger by the light of day,
And I knew that it wouldn't be long.

Keep all of the fires burning bright,
You'll never give up on the fight.
I needed to spread my wings and fly.
Fly on bye, baby.

It's just that words don't come easy,
You know it's not as it seems, no.
But listen, just don't look twice,
Head the warning, just stay clear.

There was calling, in the dark of night,
Though I thought it would leave me alone.
Even stronger by the light of day,
And I knew that it wouldn't be long.

Keep all of the fires burning bright,
You'll never give up on the fight.
I needed to spread my wings and fly.
Fly on bye, baby

Keep all of the fires burning bright,
You'll never give up on the fight.
I needed to spread my wings and fly.
Fly on bye, baby

Baby, maybe,
Baby, someday,
Baby, I'll be back and stay.

Keep all of the fires burning bright,
You'll never give up on the fight.
I needed to spread my wings and fly.
Fly on bye, baby

Keep all of the fires burning bright,
You'll never give up on the fight.
I needed to spread my wings and fly.
Fly on bye, baby
