

Are Birthdays Happy

Jens Lekman

Once I was a bully
I couldn't stand weakness in somebody's side to understand it fully you gotta be haunted by the same black dogs as I and spend your days worrying that you never see the surface

Once again it's February and it's time to celebrate our birthdays but are birthdays happy or are they just countdown to death? is there need to worry there might not be much time left?
I haven't lived my life yet

Then it happens it just blows your mind the madness of your life
