

Heavy

Jeremy Zucker

Please don't forgive my temper
All these notes in my phone
Got me feeling the pressure
I don't feel on my own
Girl you need to settle down
I ain't tryna settle down
I got all these damn loose ends now
Since you came around
Think about what you really want
Knowing that it'll hold me back
If we just had a little fun
In the end it'll drive me mad
All on you
Are you, comfortable?
With this life I live
Isn't it wonderful?
I ain't gonna change my mind about it
Really I ain't got the time for it
Can't afford to hear you whine about it
In the state of mind I can't ignore it

I'm what you need, oh
I won't be, oh
Now you know
Ever since you came around
You been weighin' me down
You been weighin' me down

I don't know what you're meant for Doesn't seem you're aware
You've been holding me under
All I needed was air
So breathe slow
This time I won't be your hero
No shining armor
I'm sorry
That I might let you down
Should have known you would fall
Soon as you came around
All on you, you
Fuck it, its all on me
Funny you call me up
When the world calls on me
I'll let you go now
I'm floating and I should have
Seen this all along

I'm what you need, oh
I won't be, oh
Now you know
You've been weighing me down
