

hello old friend

Jeremy Zucker

You're asking way too much from me
I'm running out of energy
You're burned into my memory
I'm sinking in your gravity
Though my body turns to stone
When I'm alone with you
Though my ashes lit by matches
When I know the truth

Is it just enough to be at the surface?
Now I'm underwater
One, two breaths and it makes me nervous
I have more to offer
Frozen in the headlight
Dark days turn into night, and I know
You could win and it'd still be worth it
Yeah, you'd still be worth it

I know you're listening to this
I know it's all in my head, yeah
And there's the part of me I miss
Yeah, yeah
And I'll be alright
When it gets colder outside
And I won't break in my mind
Oh, honest, I wanna try

I know you're listening to this
I know it's all in my head, yeah
And there's the part of me I miss
Yeah, yeah
And I'll be alright
When it gets colder outside
And I won't break in my mind
Oh, honest, I wanna try
