

Hold a Candle

Jessie James Decker

I got plans this Friday, Saturday too
Hell, most everyday I got something to do
And lonely don't own me, there's somebody who wants me
It always feels right till I wear off the new

My heart isn't broken, it's sleeping alone
Every fire I try to start, just goes up in smoke
I hate to admit it but this don't come true
Cause nobody, nobody, nobody hold a candle to you

My friends like the guy I'm seeing these days
Oh, he makes me laugh, but not in the same way
You laughed over nothing, I was stupid for running
I think it scared me how easy loving you can

My heart isn't broken, it's sleeping alone
But every fire I try to start, just goes up in smoke
I hate to admit it but this don't come true
Cause nobody, nobody, nobody hold a candle to you

I hate to admit it but this don't come true
Cause nobody, nobody, nobody hold a candle to you
Oh
Nobody, nobody, nobody, oh
Hold a candle to you
