

Baby You're Mine

Jill Johnson

Sometimes when you lay it on the line
Love can make you wanna start it all over
Sometimes when you spend a little time
Baby, you forget looking over your shoulder
Ohh, how I long for the feeling
I can't fight it, I can't hide it
Ohh, there's a time to believe in love again

I never thought I would live through the day
Up up, and baby our love's on the way
I can't believe that I'm back here again
Up up, it seems that my heart's gonna mend

I can't pretend I forgot about love
Up up, I'm bound for the stars up above
I can't believe that my heart's on the line
Ohh, baby you're mine

Sometimes when your heart is on the move
Love can leave you longing for more
Sometimes when it seems you're gonna lose
Love can pick you up off the floor

Ohh, how I long for the feeling
I can't fight it, I can't hide it
Ohh, there's a time to believe in love again

I never thought I would live through the day
Up up, and baby our love's on the way
I can't believe that I'm back here again
Up, up it seems my heart's gonna mend
I can't pretend I forgot about love
Up up, I'm bound for the stars up above
I can't believe that my heart's on the line
Ohh, baby you're mine
