

Eternal love

Jill Johnson

Here, at the peaceful break of day, there's a feeling life is breathin' again(
The winds of mercy throw the heavy clouds away (And in heaven, no more teardrops turn to rain that will stay in our hearts forever

((An angel passed me by so high up in the sky(
But she turned around and let her smile
shine on down(
Like a warm morning sun,
like the stars laid one by one (Showin' us a wonder that is all the while all around (Eternal love

((When the night is closin' in, there's a moment when we safely breathe as one (The wind that slowly past the years) (Brings the sun down a thousand roses

((An angel passed me by so high up in the sky
(But she turned around and let her smile
shine on down
(Like a warm morning sun,
like the stars laid one by one( Showin' us a wonder that is all the while
all around (
Eternal love,

oh...(Oh... oh...((

An angel passed me by so high up in the sky
(But she turned around and let her smile shine on down
(Like a warm morning sun,
like the stars laid one by one( Showin' us a wonder that is all the while
all around (Eternal love
