

Jump In A Car

Jill Johnson

I can't take it no more now
I won't play any part of your wicked game
It's not worth it, oh man you're driving me insane

You're too much for me to handle
Just another day and I break down
I need distance, between me and you and this town

Well I've made up my mind
I'm not backing up this time

I'm gonna jump in a car, step on the gas and go far away
Away from here
And I'm staying around, looking at you, breaking my heart in two
I'm gonna jump in a car, step on the gas and go far away
Away from here
And I'm staying around, looking at you, breaking my heart in two

Yes I've had it, with your winds and I'm Gonna do what it takes to set me free
I won't let you destroy whatever's left of me

I've seen through you and your lies and I've Decided to do what has to be done
Realized that we're better off on our own

Well I've made up my mind
I'm not backing up this time

I'm gonna jump in a car, step on the gas and go far away
Away from here
And I'm staying around, looking at you, breaking my heart in two
I'm gonna jump in a car, step on the gas and go far away
Away from here
And I'm staying around, looking at you, breaking my heart in two

Well I've made up my mind
I'm not backing up this time

I'm gonna jump in a car, step on the gas and go far away
Away from here
And I'm staying around, looking at you, breaking my heart in two
Now I'm gonna jump in a car, step on the gas and go far away
Away from here
And I'm staying around, looking at you, breaking my heart in two
Now I'm gonna jump in a car, step on the gas and go far away
Away from here
And I'm staying around, looking at you, breaking my heart in two
Now I'm gonna jump in a car, step on the gas and go far away
Away from here
And I'm staying around, looking at you, breaking my heart in two
