

Love Is Blind

Jillette Johnson

I see it in your eyes
And that's what makes me nervous
You think you can keep it tight
Push forward, then rewind
I hear it in your voice
You're talking with a purpose
You think you can fix this crack
Build a future from the past

But the train that's on this track
Can't go back

I'd rather be alone
Than be with another
I'm not trying to fill a void
But still we can't avoid

The train that's on this track
Can't go back

If you're not there by now
You're way too late
If you're not there by now
Just walk away

No future in the past
The train that's on this track
Can't go, can't go back
