

Missing Peace

JJ Heller

I know it's here somewhere
The faith I used to have
Before the sky fell down on me

Behind the curtain
Beneath the hospital bed
Hiding just beyond my reach

Feels like my prayers are
Bouncing off the ceiling tiles
Like the helium balloon

I can't close the distance
Between the way I feel
And what I know is true

I'm caught up in a battle
I wasn't looking for
When I'm searching for solace
In the middle of a war

You are, you are my missing peace
You are, you are, you are my missing peace
My missing peace

I'm tired of waiting
But I'm afraid of how it's gonna end
So I'm stuck here in between

Bracing for bad news
And hoping a miracle
While I'm fighting to believe

I'm caught up in a battle
I wasn't looking for
When I'm searching for solace
In the middle of a war

You are, you are my missing peace
You are, you are, you are my missing peace

You silence my worry
When fear is deafening
I think I want answers
But what I really need is peace
My missing peace

My missing peace

You are, you are, you are my missing peace
You are, you are, you are my missing peace
My missing peace
