

Crazy For You

JLS

I'm sorry
Last night we had a fight
Said some things I wish I'd never
The black marks from last night
From tears you cried still on my sweater

I step over the plate that you broke last night
I pick up your clothes that I threw outside
In the cold light of day we can leave it behind
Out of our minds

I guess, we get a little bit crazy
I guess, we get a little bit cruel
But this is how crazy you make me
Bad enough to think about losing you

But even as I walk away
And I say I'm gonna stay
Only takes a moment or two
'Cause you and I both know the truth
I'm crazy for you, I'm crazy for you

A thousand flowers
The power of saying sorry
So you don't have to call
To find out you know you got me

Even when you hurt me the way you have
Even though you know I can treat you bad
But we're drawn once again like a moth to a flame
Yeah, it's like that

I guess, we get a little bit crazy
I guess, we get a little bit cruel
But this is how crazy you make me
Bad enough to think about losing you

But even as I walk away
And I say I'm gonna stay
Only takes a moment or two
'Cause you and I both know the truth
I'm crazy for you, I'm crazy for you

Yeah, takes a little fire to keep things hot
Takes a little loss to know what you've got
Forgiving and forgetting takes a lot
But we know what we've got

I guess, we get a little bit crazy
I guess, we get a little bit cruel
But this is how crazy you make me
Bad enough to think about losing you

I guess, we get a little bit crazy
I guess, we get a little bit cruel
But this is how crazy you make me
Bad enough to think about losing you

But even as I walk away
And I say I'm gonna stay
It only takes a moment or two
'Cause you and I both know the truth
I'm crazy for you, I'm crazy for you
I'm crazy for you
