

Lie #1

Joe Bonamassa

You said you weren't a good liar. That was Lie #1.
You said your partying days were over, but the party's just begun.
You said it was a Friday thing, a shot or two of booze.
And in the middle of Tuesday, you're drunk and can't find your shoes.
You let all your lovers go, you swore to God it was true,
The phone is ringing off the hook, with dudes looking for you.
You whisper things I've never heard.
But the thing is baby, I believed every word.
You said you weren't a good liar. That was Lie #1.
You said your partying days were over, but the party's just begun.
Lie #1, Lie #1 - oh help me now.
(Lead Break)
It seems you've been hangin' out, in some very sketchy places.
It seems you and the cops babe, on a first name basis.
You whisper things I've never ever heard.
But the thing is baby, I believed every word.
You said you weren't a good liar. That was Lie #1.
You said your partying days were over, but the party's just begun.
Now a thousand lies later, look at the damage you've done,
'Cuz I believed you honey - I believed Lie #1.
Lie #1, Lie #1, Lie #1...
