So, What Would I Do

Joe Bonamassa

Home for a day Six more nights, baby When I go on the road Feel my presence diminishing, baby All I need is the truth and a faith That true love brings Bless your soul for loving me And my faults included Oh, I know You're the rock That keeps me grounded I know it can be a long, winding road You know I love you so All I have is you on my mind You're all that's left for me in my life 'Cause I want to know You've seen enough with me 'Cause I will survive This long time away

So, what would I do? I could go on without you, darling Oh, I don't know

Now I want to know You see a life with me I'll survive This long time away

So, what would I do? Just sit and suffer, baby So, what would I do? I could go on without you, darling Oh, I don't know
