

Now That You're Gone

Joe Cocker

Are you still that little girl
Who used to talk to me
Just look how far we've come in this world
Where did you think we'd be
You think the world wakes up in the morning
You left it all behind
You hear the music
You lost the tune
All melodies are hard to find
Why did you go away
Leave me alone
There's nothing left to say
Now that you're gone
Now that you're gone
In the eyes of the woman I see
You are just a child
Not the one who's walking the streets
Not the one who's running wild
Say your life hasn't changed that much
You don't want to know
All the love we shared in this world
Not so long ago
Why did you go away
Leave me alone
Now that you're gone
Why did you go away
Leaving me alone
Oh now that you're gone
Now that you're gone
Now that you're gone
Now that you're gone
