Only the Future

Something's coming Something big Something I can't stand

Dark as the ocean Secret and cruel Something I can't command

Something's waiting Down a mugger's alley To see what's on my mind

Take a deep breath Start walking faster It's dark, but I'm not blind

You never know If I push at this wall My hand could pass through

So

This cloud of unknowing Could disappear too

It's only the future
