

Satisfy Me

Joe Lynn Turner

Hopelessly haunting, silently calling
Desires that just won't fade
Race through my brain
Left with the memory, hidden inside,
This dark
And lonely place
That love will never find

Than you satisfy me, like a cool desert rain
Breathing life into long forgotten dream
No I can't walk away
I'm strung out cause I need
But oh, you satisfy me

Passion Searching, forever yearning
Fire that won't be tamed
Shows no mercy
Secretly knowing, helplessly hoping
For a life that could never be
No we don't stand a chance

But you satisfy me and
I'm drawn to the flame
Breathing life, into my frozen dreams
This could be the beginning
Or the end of the life I lead
But oh, how you satisfy me
Oh satisfy me

Yeah, you satisfy me like a cool desert rain
Breathing life into long forgotten dream
No I can't walk away
I'm strung out cause I need
But oh, you satisfy me

And I'm drawn to the flame
Breathing life, into my frozen dreams
This could be the beginning
Or the end of the life I lead
But oh, how you satisfy me
