Second Hand Life

Joe Lynn Turner

Always walking in somenone shadow Ever since I could crawl Afraid to break the chains around me Stand up and walk tall

Everyone has felt the same rejection Any child can see In the mirror just a sad reflection Of what there really can be

It's a second hand life we're living When you're out on the street alone Well l've done it your way
Now I'm taking what's mine
No matter wrong or right
Don't want no second hand life

Out of nowhere we come from nothing Expect the world to provide They gave me rules l'd never follow Lelft on my own lo survive

They say they do it for your own protection Why do we hurt who we love Well cut the strings and go your own direction Are you strong enough

It's a second hand life we're given Like a heart that has turned to stone
