

Another Side of You

Joe Nichols

Well, you rolled out of bed and stomped your toe
And I heard you almost cuss
And I fought back the urge to laugh
Just listen to you fuss

Then you overdid the coffee
Couldn't get your hair just right
When I smiled and said good morning
You looked mad enough to fight

Well, that's another side of you
That I'm in love with too

Yeah, that minivan's a far cry
From the sports car in your dreams
And that dead end job
Just pushes back vacation more it seems

You got soccer at 4:30
And ballet class by 5:00
Then I call you talking flirty
You ask have I lost my mind

Well, that's another side of you
That I'm in love with too

When you lay down in my arms
Let go of all that stress
Whisper, "Honey, I love you"
With your head on my chest

And the world's strongest woman is my lady
When the day is through
Well, that's another side of you
That I'm in love with too

If I had to do the things you do
Well I'd just lose my mind
Somehow you get 'em fed and bathed
And settled down by nine

And I hear you down the hallway
As you're laying down to sleep
And pray the Good Lord watches over them
And you and me

Well, that's another side of you
That I'm in love with too
Well, that's another side of you
That I'm in love with too
