Losers

Joey Tempest

See your face hard to trace no parking space Don't know what to do its Monday
Put the key in start the engine
I can hear my mobile ringing its Tuesday
When you remind me I forget
Now what the hell did I forget its Wednesday

There can be only one winner

How come were just a couple of losers

There can be only one winner

How come were just a couple of losers

Real estate interest rates

Need somewhere else to keep my faith its Thursday

I'm no freak or amateur

I just don't know what I am here for its Friday

Mirror ball mirror ball

Who's the funkiest of us all its Saturday

There can be only one winner

How come were just a couple of losers

There can be only one winner

How come were just a couple of losers

I got no lights on driving around Wondering if there's any love left in this town Its Sunday
