

Honky Tonk Saturday Night

John Anderson

Angels and devils share the same tables
And that's not so wrong if you get it done right
Halos and horns lock up on the dance floor
On a honky tonk Saturday night

It's a honky tonk Saturday night
It's not who is who, it's who will or who might
With luck she'll turn on 'fore they turn out the lights
On a honky tonk Saturday night

I went to the jukebox and played some Merle Haggard
Oh, me and the waitress think he's out of sight
Then some folks got thirsty while we were dancin'
On a honky tonk Saturday night

It's a honky tonk Saturday night
It's not who is who, it's who will or who might
With luck I'll take her home 'fore they turn out the lights
On a honky tonk Saturday night
Yeah, with luck I'll take her home 'fore they turn out the lights
On a honky tonk Saturday night
