

You've Got the Longest Leaving Act in Town

John Anderson

Wasn't that you packin' your things when I left this morning
And wasn't it me who spent all day feelin' down
And isn't it you seeing how much you make me suffer
Oh baby, you've got the longest leaving act in town

I can't count the times I've seen you untie that leather suitcase
I wish you'd let me off this merry-go-round
'Cause I never know if you're coming or you're going
Oh baby, you've got the longest leaving act in town

I never know if you're coming or you're going
Oh baby, you've got the longest leaving act in town
