

So What

John Cale

Less than a day when the speed of decision was taken while we waited outside for savage ineptitude motionless spectacle into the glass of time
What do we learn from that?
What do we learn from that?
What do we learn from that?
The world goes round
What was replacing the fractured event in the landscape of nobody left one day you said you will return safer by far than the fools at the bar
What do we learn from that?
What do we learn from that?
What do we learn from that?
The world goes round
Inside the demand for a luxury hand lurks the context of misery's trend
How in the world can the trouble be found when the movement's too fast for that we're slow
But we learn from that That's what we learn from that A facet to be facet to do
A shattered inevitable greed you're walking on locusts - you like to do that I can hear it when you talk
What do we learn from that?
The context decides if we live or we die
It comes to me when I'm alone
Your voice keeps me quiet until then You should know by now if we ever learn from that Do we ever learn from that?