

By Christmas Eve

John Legend

I'm a thousand miles away
It's not snowing in L.A.
But I'm phoning just to say
I'm sorry

All the flights have been delayed
I've got nowhere here to stay
But if I can find my way
I'll hurry

Just hang up the Christmas lights
And I'll do the rest tonight
Just tell the kids I'm coming
I swear that I'll be running

And under the Christmas tree
Together, yeah, we will be
I promise

I'm gonna walk
If I have to run
I'll stand on the highway
And stop someone
I'll cross the deserts, an ocean
A river that's frozen
I'll follow the stars
Just to find where you are

You can count on me
Make a wish, close your eyes and believe
I'll be home, home, home, home, home
By Christmas Eve

And I know it's all on you
Keep it together like you're glue
And everything you do
I notice

So I'll bring presents, I'll bring wine
Mistletoe for you and I
And I'll be there just in time
To show it

Just hang up the Christmas lights
And I'll do the rest tonight
And tell the kids I'm coming
I swear that I'll be running

Under the Christmas tree
Together, yeah, we will be
I promise

I'm gonna walk
If I have to run
I'll stand on the highway
And stop someone

A river that's frozen

You can count on me
Make a wish, close your eyes and believe
By Christmas Eve

I'll find my way back to California
I'll follow the map, yeah, to somewhere warmer
I'll carry my bags just until I can hold you again

I'm gonna walk
If I have to run
And stop someone
A river that's frozen

You can count on me
Make a wish, close your eyes and believe
