

All In My Heart

John Michael Montgomery

I sit here tonight
An' look in your eyes
For that old familiar flame
That love that burns
Makes my world turn
Two hearts beating the same

Is it all in my mind
Or is it harder to find?
I feel like I'm in the dark
I thought it was real
But I'm startin' to feel
Like it must be all in my heart

I'm a fool for believin'
But I just keep dreamin'
While we just, keep driftin' apart
Tryin' to make somethin'
Where there's really nothin'
I guess, it's all in my heart

I keep tellin' myself
There's somethin' else
I could do, to find that spark
But wherever it lies
It's not in your eyes
I guess it's all in my heart

I'm a fool for believin'
But I just keep dreamin'
While we just, keep driftin' apart
Tryin' to make somethin'
Where there's really nothin'
I guess it's all in my heart
Just tryin' to make somethin'
Where there's really nothin'
I guess it's all in my heart
