

Hands in the Fire

John West

Long ago and far away
Blood vital flowed through my veins
Life of whim and desire
In death condemned to the fire

Now I pray for my soul
I've been chained in limbo

Hands in the fire will burn
The hardest lesson learned
So many years on this Earth
All my life
I wonder what it's worth, what it's worth

All the wight of my deeds on my mind
What waits for the prisoner who died
Salvation can come to me

Now I pray for my soul
I've been chained in limbo

Hands in the fire will burn
The hardest lesson learned
So many years on this Earth
All my life
I wonder what it's worth, what it's worth

The stories, the visions I've seen
I pray this is only a dream
No rest, no sleep on this land
A desert of souls and I, a grain of sand

Hands in the fire will burn
I guess I'll never learn
So many years on this Earth
All my life
I wonder what it's worth, what it's worth
