

No Ordinary Miracle

John Wetton

Here I stand, not so different from the rest
A common man, with an uncommon dream inside I won't be satisfied, with the fortunes I've been blessed
For there's one thing I've been denied
Till you arrived, now I'm trying not to break
This spell I'm under

If the heavens would calm the seas, and a hush fell on every horizon
I would not be amazed, not for one moment
For 'though we are past the age of miracles
Maybe this one's overdue
'Cause I've been sent no ordinary miracle
This miracle is you

Here we are, as we face another day, and come what may
We must stand and be counted
As one must hope and pray, for the courage and the strength
That I never doubted, oh it's my belief
That a single prayer has the power of thunder

If the heavens would calm the seas, and a hush fell on
every horizon
I would not be amazed, not for one moment
For 'though we are past the age of miracles
Maybe this one's overdue
'Cause I've been sent no ordinary miracle
This miracle is you

In a lifetime of chains, it's never too late
In patience we wait for a gift from the blue
To carry us through, to carry us through...

If the heavens would part the seas so that all hands could reach to each other
I would not be amazed, not for one moment
For 'though we are past the age of miracles, maybe this one's overdue
'Cause I've been sent no ordinary miracle
This miracle is you

For 'though we are past the age of miracles, maybe this
one's overdue
'Cause I've been sent no ordinary miracle
This miracle...is you
