I Believe In You

Johnnie Taylor

I feel sorry, I feel sorry I feel sorry, I feel sorry

I feel for sorry for any man out there When he can't look around And say, this is my woman My woman alone

I feel sorry, yeah For any woman out there Who can't say I got somebody That I can call my very own

I feel sorry, I feel sorry I feel sorry, I feel sorry

One thing I can say about the people of the world today They see you with a good thing They want to take it away

But I believe in you, you believe in me too, yeah Even your best friend will come around making sly remarks Trying to put you down I believe in you, you believe in me too

Listen honey, people talking, trying to pull us apart Sticking pins and needles in both of our hearts I love you no matter Don't care about the stormy weather

I heard your mother say Loving me didn't make no sense But when she put me down You stood up in my defense

I believe in you Anytime you against your own mother It makes me know You believe in me, yeah

Here's another thing We had our hard times And almost didn't make it We always worked it Never tried to fake it

But I believe in you You believe in me too

Here's anything about it People talking, trying to pull us apart Always ticking pins and needles in both of our hearts Our love together Don't care about the stormy weather

I believe in you You believe in me too, yeah I believe, that's why every time we get a chance I tell you, honey, how much I love you Love you, love you Love you, love you

And most of all, how much I trust you The reason why I trust you, baby Is because of one thing I can lean on you, yeah, baby And you can lean on me too One more time I'm gonna say

I believe in you Honey, please let me believe in you I know a lot of folk out there Wish they had somebody they could believe in

I believe, I believe in you You believe in me too Anytime you against your own mother It makes me know

You believe in me I believe in you And you've shown me enough to know You believe in me too
