

Trouble

Joi Cardwell

I said people
You should have listened
To your mother
'Cause she told you now
The world is full of trouble
But hold on
To your dreams
Don't let
Them slip from your hands
Into another

The world is full of trouble
The world is full of trouble.

So now people
You need to help one another
'Cause blame don't matter now
When your families
In trouble
Get on up
Don't let your worries
Keep you down
'Cause tomorrow
Tomorrow's only hours from now.

The world is full of trouble
The world is full of trouble.

Don't need no hate
Don't need no fear
Don't need no AIDS
Don't need no anti queer

We got to love one another

We got to get it together
We need love, love love love
Listen to your mother
'Cause you know
The world the world the world is Full of trouble.
