

First Sign of Spring

Jolie Holland

Dark Eyed Juncos are deep in the park
We've got a long way to go
Fairy Wren and the Jewel Weed
Are deep in the ground or out across the sea
Sidewalk is frozen and I'm tired of my coat
And the snow drifts in again
I keep forgetting to bring my hat
And I'm shivering in the wind
Only two people on this big city block
Who can't stop slow dancing to a silent song

And it looks like you and me are the first sign of spring
You and me are the first sign, you and me

In a darkened bar, before I ever touched your face
I made the inevitable profession of love
But it didn't cross my lips and it echoed in my skull
When you were back at your place
You said the very same thing
When you were all alone in the dark

And it looks like you and me are the first sign of spring
You and me are the first sign, you and me
