

Whole New Me

Jonathan Clay

My heads been spinning and thinning out
Just trying to stay
Away from it all
Feeling like no one will feel me out
What I'm all about
At all
Do you think that I
Could talk to you
Do you think that you could listen past my name
See my darker shades
And not argue
Would you look at me the same
I took their plans and I let them in
With no regard
To my own
I took my hands and I put them in Something that I've Never known
Do you think that I
Could show you
Everything that I've kept locked up on the inside
See I've been hiding out
In my own mind
And I'm getting out this time
This time
So grab your things
And hold on tight
Cuz a brand new me
Is coming out tonight
I'm feeling like
Nothing is the same
Everything is changed
But this tired name
My heads done spinning
I figured out
What I'm all about today
Don't care if anyone feels me out
I know what I'm about
Know what I'm all about
I'm alright
I'm alright
