Storm

José González

Send me your position
It's getting lonely down here
Things I've been up to lately
Have kept me from seeing clear

Why do you keep on running? This love is fading way too fast All the stars are burning for you But none of them is going to last So stop chasing the past

As soon as the storm is over And all the fog is clear As soon as the storm is over I've promised to send out for you

As soon as the storm is over As soon as the storm is over As soon as the storm is over As soon as the storm is over
