

I Guess It's Time (Acoustic)

Josh Abbott Band

[Verse 1]

I'm sitting under pine and oak trees waiting on a summer breeze to cool me down.
I think I've been up since dawn,
your memories carry on without a sound.

[Chorus]

So I'll be sitting here thinking what to do.
God knows how I miss you.
It's a shame this is what we're gonna do.
But I guess its time I started getting over you.

[Verse 2]

You're like the peacocks down at the park,
so beautiful but you mean no harm
and you can't be caught.
I thought I had you in my arms one time
and everything was fine until we fought.

[Bridge]

It's like the moment when the rain falls down,
how you broke my heart, what a lonely sound.
The clouds open to a new, clear sky.
Let me clear my mind, I guess its time.
