

Decision

Josh Garrels

Brother come on open up you eyes
Quit believing all those lies
That the devils been telling you
Sister I know that it happened again
But girl you that you've got a friend
I've been there too
Brother you can take of that mask you wear
Quit acting like you don't care
About the things that are killing you
Sister don't go that way no more
You've been down that road before
I'm in love with you
Everyone says that it's alright
Living in darkness every night
But I think it's time, Lord it's time
I'm ready to give up all my sin
But I don't know where to begin
But I think it's time to find out
And make that change
I've been lonely too
Many days pass by, what's done is done
I give up my life
I've been running through the night
Towards the light, of the sun
Now I'm free
Bring a little love for me
Sweet love of mine
It's the morning of a new day
I thank you Lord for everything

That you've done

In me

I will meet you there

In the end of time

Come together as one
