

A Big Enough Sky

Josh Ritter

Wanna go where the sweetwater is,
Wanna go where the air is pure.
Out 'neath the sky so big,
I can give my heart to her.

Somewhere along the line
Our little train jumped the tracks.
She lost a little faith in me.
It'll take a little time, gonna get it back.

What happened to the river bed?
What happened to the prairie fire?
Can you tell me where the lightning went
Every time that you met my eye?
Didn't notice when the wind picked up, I
Wasn't looking when the clouds rolled in.
If you ever fell out of love,
could you ever fall back again?

Out where the sweetwater is,
Out where the air is pure,
Out 'neath the sky so big,
I can give my heart to her.

I've been letting a lot of things slide,
I've been letting a lot of things go.
I thought I was the one for you,
but the truth is, sometimes I don't know.

What happened to the river bed?
What happened to the prairie fire?
Can you tell me where the lightning went
Every time that you met my eye?
Didn't notice when the wind picked up, I
Wasn't looking when the clouds rolled in.
If you ever fell out of love,
could you ever fall back again?

Out where the sweetwater is,
Out where the air is pure,
Out 'neath the sky so big,
I can give my heart to her.

Hey, baby, there's a place I found.
Still believe that we can stay in love.
I believe a lot of things, honey,
When the sky is big enough.
I believe a lot of things, honey,
When the sky is big enough.
