

Today

Joshua Radin

Shoelaces untied
You can dry your eyes
Perfect shadows align
Behind us
This is the day I make you mine

The way your hair lies
Sometimes unrecognized
All the way from these today
On a train
Nothing to say if there's still time

But you are the one
I've been waiting for today
And here comes the sun
That's been baiting on today

Lately I've lost my tongue
Today you found the sun
I know not long has grown
Well I thank God you came along

But you are the one
I've been waiting for today
And here comes the sun
That's been baiting on today

You looked right through me
When there was no one else
I sat beside beside you and became myself
Today... today

You are the one
I've been waiting for today
And here comes the sun
That's been baiting on today
