

Same Sky

JRDN

I wonder if you see the same moon that I do
When the day is through
And I wonder if you feel the same sun
That I run to when summer comes
And I wonder if you're just as far from the stars
As I am when I lay down
I wonder if you'll ever really love me somehow

Oh, I wonder why
Why if we share the same sky
We think that we're so different?
Like the worlds we're livin' in
Are galaxies apart when our hearts
Beat to the same drum
Beat to the same drum

Oh, and you hear my rhythm
Oh, and I know you feel it too
But why if we share the same sun and moon
Can't I share my world with you?

And I know that you feel the same wind
That I'm breathin' in the evening
Even if we don't share point of views
And I know that we're floating on the same ocean
Weary as we're coasting through life
And I know that the mountains tower over you
Like they do me

And I wonder why, why
Why if we share the same sky
Think that we're so different?
Like the worlds we're livin' in
Are galaxies apart when our hearts
Beat to the same drum
Beat to the same drum

Oh, and you hear my rhythm
Oh, and I know you feel it too
But why if we share the same sun and moon
Can't I share my world with you?

My world with you
With you, wanna share my world with you
'Cause a kiss is still a kiss, love is still love
We are far from perfect, every one of us
If we realize and recognize in real life
That we alike, we all want the same things and I

I wonder why
Why if we share the same sky
Think that we're so different?
Like the worlds we're livin' in
Are galaxies apart when our hearts
Beat to the same drum
Beat to the same drum

Oh, and you hear my rhythm
Oh, and I know you feel it too
But why if we share the same sun and moon
Can't I share my world with you?
