

I Get the Blues When It Rains

Judy Garland

It rained when I found you, it rained when I lost you
That's why I'm so blue when it rains

It was raining dear, when I met you
You smiled, the sun shone through
Then it rained again and I lost you
Just why, I never knew

I get the blues when it rains
The blues I can't lose when it rains
Each little droplet falls on my window pane
Always reminds me of the tears I've shed in vain

I sit and wait for the sun
To smile down on me once again
It rained when I found you, it rained when I lost you
That's why I'm so blue when it rains
