

Why don't you go back to the hell from which you came showing me that girlfriends and psychotics are the same first you say we're dating and it's easy in the start then I'm running for my life the minute we're apart when she whispered her name Lolita when she whispered to me your mine nothing but a warning sign by now I'm wondering what has happened to your head telling me your ex-boyfriend is here and wants me dead then I find to stalking me wherever I go ask me where I've been when I'm positive you know when she whispered her name Lolita
nothing but a warning what in the hell did I do to deserve you psycho girl, you're wasting my time.
