

Restless Heart

Juice Newton

Anywhere where the wild wind blows
Where it's going, nobody knows
He ain't the kind that settle down
I hear him knocking at my door
He's gonna take me down once more
But I know he won't stay around

'Cause he's got a restless heart
He's always changing like the wind
And like a fool, I'll take him back again and again
Knowing he's got a restless heart

Soft as a summer night
Rocks me easy till the morning light
And then like a dream, he'll fade away
Like a river rolling on to the sea
He'll give his love and then he'll leave
Something inside won't let him stay

'Cause he's got a restless heart
He's always changing like the wind
Like a fool, I'll take him back again and again
Knowing he's got a restless heart

Lord, I know it's a foolish game
Got to taste his love again
Look in his eyes, and I feel the desire
Can't help myself, I'm lost in his fire

'Cause he's got a restless heart
Always changing like the wind
Like a fool, I'll take him back again and again
Knowing he's got a restless heart

Like a fool, I'll take him back again and again
'Cause he's got a restless heart
