

What Can I Do With My Heart

Juice Newton

So many people who love each other
Not enough love for us all
When we're so careless with one another
Someone is destined to fall

Whatever happened to all of the love
I thought we had at the start?
Whatever happened to old-fashioned love
The kind that'll never falls apart?

Tell me, what can I do
What can I do with my heart?
So many pieces and parts of you
Still being used in my heart
What can I do with my heart?

When all the words that were never spoken
Finally drove us apart
Blinded by some kind of false emotion
We're selfishly blaming our hearts

Whatever happened to giving and bending? (Oooh)
We used to do it so well (Oooh)
Whatever happened to old-fashioned endings (Oooh)
The kind that were so easy to tell? (Oooh)

So tell me, what can I do
What can I do with my heart?
So many pieces and parts of you
Still being used in my heart
What can I do with my heart?

Every time I give it away
Somebody breaks it, somebody throws it away-yeah

So tell me, what can I do
What can I do with my heart?
So many pieces and parts of you
Still being used in my heart
What can I do?

Tell me, what can I do
What can I do with my heart?
So many pieces and parts of you
Still being used in my heart
Broken in two

Oh baby, what can I do
What can I do with my heart?
Broken in two, oh baby, what can I do
What can I do with my heart?
