

Hold On

Julian Lennon

Here we go again the lonely road
What do I feel but emptiness inside
So shall I give my heart to break again
Can it be real that I have lost a friend
What can I do to heal my heart again
What can I say to hold you once again

Hold On, for love

There is a side of you that I can see
That doesn't belong in life without you next to me
I know you'd like to feel that love again
Cherish the love you had until the end
What can I say to you
What can I say to bring you home again
I'm not the same I need you as a friend

Hold On, for love

Here we go again the lonely road
What do I feel but emptiness inside
So shall I give my heart to break again
Can it be real that I have lost a friend
What can I do to heal
What can I do to heal my heart again
What can I say to you
I can't believe our love is at an end

Hold On

It's not the end