There's no shame in the sight of you
I quote, it's something that must reside in you
It's true
We live the restless life
We've seen the stream run dry
I've tried a million times
Each time my heart is stolen
My life's changed
Because of you

Until I feel the sunlight
Body, heat and flame
Until the sunrise
Nothing feels the same

And I've lost sight
Of what's in front of me
Until the sunrise (Like the first time)
Nothing feels the same

In the flicker of the twilight days
Colored rays that we both love
You tear me apart then lead me to the truth again
When time's not enough
You keep your head held high
Don't need a reason why
I'll try a million times
My love I'll keep on fighting
My life's changed
At the sight of you

Until I feel the sunlight
Body, heat and flame
Until the sunrise
Nothing feels the same

And I've lost sight
Of what's in front of me
Until the sunrise (Like the first time)
Nothing feels the same

Feel the sunlight
Body, heat and flame
Until the sunrise
Nothing feels the same

Feel the sunlight
Body, heat and flame
Until the sunrise
Nothing feels the same

The photos
The pieces
The fire
The reasons
The go slow
The take down

The motions
The seasons
