

I'd Lose Myself

June

Now a look brings a tear to my eye
I can feel, can remember the time
We got locked out, forgot about. rain came down
We remained too soaked to care.
While dark outside,
The drinks all helped we were out of our minds.
It's funny to think,
And realize it's all worthwhile

Would you run away?
Would you come with me?
Maybe...
To feel alive again?

Wait, wait, wait
The cold hits us in the face
I say lets disappear till the morning
Lets take it all in,
Forget where the night began

Your hair is wet,
Glistening in the moonlight
The horizon is our radiant show,
On the water below, away from life alone.

I don't know why but I wish
That maybe I can lose myself
I don't know why I lost the drive
I let it drift apart
Gotta get back to place
Not thinking what I say from the start

Would you run away?
Would you come with me?
Maybe...
To feel alive again?
So what do you say?
Would you follow me baby?
Let's feel alive again

I'm overcome with a sense,
My head's lifting and your's agrees
Well this is right,
You know it's right
Let's make this work tonight

I don't know why but I wish
That maybe I could lose myself
I don't know why I lost the drive
I let it drift apart
Gotta get back to place
Not thinking what I say from the start

Would you run away?
Would you come with me?
Maybe...
To feel alive again?

So what do you say?
Would you follow me baby?
Let's feel alive again.
