

Carried Away

Just Surrender

Ironically enough
I've never been too good with words
I know it's absurd
But I can never find a perfect way
To say the things I want to say

If you'd give me the chance
To let this kiss say
All the things locked behind my lips
I promise I could sweep you off your feet

Let's you and me get carried away now
Carried away now
No holding back
We're on our way now
Carried away now
Let's see where this night will take us
There's no reason left for us to stick around
I never want to come back down
Tonight's our last night on the ground

The funny thing about a kiss
Is that it's never enough
You can call on my bluff
But I am trembling from the taste of you
And I know that you must feel it to

If you'd give me the chance
To let this kiss say
All the things locked behind my lips
I promise I could take your breath away

Let's you and me get carried away now
Carried away now
No holding back
We're on our way now
Carried away now
Let's see where this night will take us
There's no reason left for us to stick around
I never want to come back down
Tonight's our last night on the ground

Let's you and me get carried away now
Carried away now
No holding back
We're on our way now
Carried away now
Let's see where this night will take us
There's no reason left for us to stick around
I never want to come back down
Tonight's our last night on the ground
