

Skimming Stones

Justin Hayward

When the tears in your eyes start to show,
Clear your mind, spend some time, Skimming stones...

When you're a long way from home,
Just take a moment, I know...
And calm yourself and let your spirit free

Count how many times,
See how far,
Cast your loneliness out in to the stars...

One day we'll find ourselves free,
And you will stand next to me,
Skimming stones in to eternity...
