Sometimes when I'm dreamin' And I'm far away from home
I kind of get the feelin' that I'm never quite alone
See I just can't help but think about you baby
Time is of the essence And the candle's burning low
Remind me to remember That there's not so far to go
I just can't help but think about you baby
The places that I've been to Trying to see them through her eyes
Like the picture from the childhood That I thought I'd left behind
See I just can't help but think about you baby
The sunrise in the morning and the glory that was ours
Is captured in a moment Making love among the stars
I just can't help but think about you baby
Thinkin', thinkin', thinkin' about my baby
I just can't help but think about my baby
She's always on my mind
