

One More Night With You

Kari Kimmel

They say I'm in denial
Because I can't let go
I don't care about what people say
I'm doing all I know
I turn your music up
And I close my eyes
And I can feel you here
For one more night

Oh your water glass is in the same place you left it
I know it's been 3 months, but I can't accept it
Your bed's still unmade and I like it that way
So I won't have to face it for another day

Oh it hurts too much to say goodbye
So I'll just sit here with you one more night
I'd rather live in this lie than live in truth
if I get to spend one more night with you

This can't be happening
It was just a bad dream
If I go on pretending
It won't be real
But every now and then
I call your name out loud
And it hits me so hard
It knocks me down

Oh your water glass is in the same place you left it
I know it's been 3 months, but I can't accept it
Your bed's still unmade and I like it that way
So I won't have to face it for another day

Oh it hurts too much to say goodbye
So I'll just sit here with you one more night
I'd rather live in this lie than live in truth
if I get to spend one more night with you

One more night with you
One more night with you
I'd rather live in this lie
Than live in truth
Oh, if I get to spend one more night with you
