

I Got You Now

Kasey Chambers

I got your love
I got your need
I got you wrapped around my finger like a glove
And i got you on your knees
Ya begging me darlin' please
I got your mind
I got your soul
I got you held up like a prisioner cryin' blind
But I got you in control
Baby lets rock and roll

You better hide you conscience under the bed
You aint gonna get me outa your head
You think slipped through the cracks somehow
But I got you now

I got your heart
I got your blood
I got you boilin' up like water from the start
It's risin' like a flood
You're sticken to me like mud

I got your pain
I got your ache
I got you holdin' on with both hands to the chain
Like something's about to break
Baby how much can you take

You better hide you conscience under the bed
You aint gonna get me outa your head
You think slipped through the cracks somehow
But I got you now

I got your love
I got your need
I got your mind
I got your soul
I got your heart
I got your blood
I got your pain
I got your ache

You better hide you conscience under the bed
You aint gonna get me outa your head
You think slipped through the cracks somehow
But I got you now

I got you now, I got you now, I got you now....
