

You Are Home

Kate Walsh

You are a picture to me
And you are the movies I love to (?) to sleep
And I love to hear you speak
'Cause you are home
You are more than heaven holds
You are more than the sun on my face
I love your taste
'Cause you are my day
And you are the movies in the night
And you are the glow of a camp-fire light
And you are up there in the stars in my sky

I don't know why you can't see that you're shining
'Cause you are home
You are more than heaven holds
You are more than than the sun on my face
I love your taste
And you are my day
You are more than all these things
And you are everything
You are my land, the sun on my face
I love your taste
And you are my day
