

Stranger Than Fiction

Katharine McPhee

I found love when I least expected it
I found faith from a night of no regrets
I found me in a place too crazy to mention
They say that life is stranger than fiction

Had a crazy dream the other night
We were breaking free with no fear to fly
Nothing to prove
No one to blame
Breaking away

But we woke up on a runaway train
Speeding down a dead end road, as they say
We fell for love
Love let us fall
To nothing at all

What we see is crazy

I found love when I least expected it
I found faith from a night of no regrets
I found me in a place too crazy to mention
Let's say that life is stranger than fiction

I found love from the strength of letting go
I found faith from the nights spent on my own
I found me in a place too crazy to mention
They say that life is stranger than fiction

It took the darkest day to realize
That the sun will set but not slip away
Bruises we made
Finally fade
The moment we walk away

Sometimes life is crazy

I found love when I least expected it
I found faith from a night of no regrets
I found me in a place too crazy to mention
They say that life is stranger than fiction

I found love from the strength of letting go
I found faith from the nights spent on my own
I found me in a place too crazy to mention
They say that life is stranger than fiction

Nothing in the world is gonna break me
Push me ten feet underground
I'll still touch the sky
Never gonna turn the world against me
Finally free
Finally weightless

I found love when I least expected it
I found faith from a night of no regrets
I found me in a place too crazy to mention

They say that life is stranger than fiction

I found love from the strength of letting go
I found faith from the nights spent on my own
I found me in a place too crazy to mention
They say that life is stranger than fiction
